

Your Kilt Measuring Guide

Please take measurements in 'inches'.

A: Waist

- Do not breathe in or hold stomach in.
- Measure around the waist at navel height. (This measurement may be larger than your normal waist size, but don't worry this is normal for measurements taken at navel height on a man's body).
- Take measurement firmly, so that kilt may sit comfortably without falling down. Do not take a 'slack' measurement. This is important because the straps & buckles on a kilt can adjust to make a kilt bigger, but never tighter!

B: Seat

- Measure around the fullest part of the seat (The area of the bottom that sticks out the most).
- Place three fingers inside the measuring tape, palm down, and flat against the body to avoid getting this measurement too tight.

C: Kilt Length

- Measure from the navel down to the half way point across the centre of the knee cap.
- The best way do this, is for the wearer to kneel on the floor, with back straight, knees together and looking forward.
- While the measurement is taken from 'top of navel' (where the top of the kilt will sit) 'straight' down to the floor.

D: Height

- In 'feet & inches', thank you.

X: Hips (measurement needed for ladies only, this is not required for men)

IMPORTANT: Please do not self-measure. Have a family member/colleague take each measurement. To ensure accuracy, DOUBLE CHECK all your measurements. As we cannot offer refunds on made to measure items. Any ill-fitting garments in need of adjustment are the responsibility of each customer.
